

SCENE IN S.D.

All Sarah Ana and Hayley Wilson read and ride

Colleen Clayton and Vance Wilderman

Danielle Brewer with Michael Kosakowski

Rolling up in style

ALL THE NIGHT MOVES!

Riviera's annual nightlife issue is an event in itself (Hey, it's major tracking what the cool kids do at night!). Our soiree at Sweetwater San Diego celebrate the issue was the ultimate proof that San Diego is sizzling after the Hundreds came out to the Rande Gaeber-designed hotspot at the Hard Rock Hotel, brimming with well-wishers and scenemakers dancing to the DJ Sem and trying to snag booths. The party was not just about these also the nightlife kings and queens celebrated in the June issue. These models of nocturnal style showed up with with entourages in tow, stopping themselves out in the mag (talk about bragging rights). But they should know San Diego nightlife has gone from sleepy to smoking over the last few with dive bars getting major makeovers and hotels like the Hard Rock and the Ivy offering oontz-oontz aplenty. So it was our job to throw a worthy bash, thus the models (all gussied up thanks to Ashen Salon) sporting Pucci frocks and David Yurman rocks. And then there was the Porsches (check the "Mexico Blue" Turbo Cabriolet courtesy of Pioneer Porsche) and the va voom Vespas from Vespa of San Diego. Oceanside and Poway. Hands off the detailing. Ladies! Bystanders walking to the Padres game nearby played looky-loo as the crowd was soon spilling over the patio, wanting a piece of the gift bags. There were after-parties in Hard Rock suites as most partygoers decided to keep on till the break of dawn, proving once again that Riviera's dark side just might be out best side. Good night. And Good Luck. —THE EDITORS

Leslie and Ori Zemer with Trevor Sacco and Jennifer Friedman

Models rock Pucci dresses and David Yurman jewelry

Michelle Ball and Tommy Trause

Mars and Veronica Arluck

Jack Ills and Karin Lomas

Flaks and Joan Ragland

Barry and Jennifer Layne

Jonathan Stevens, Jason St. John and Neil Hughes

Stephanie Simovich and Roberta Wood